Quality, Accessible Professional Development with National Recognition

Why CFTEA? It is a good question. There are many learning and development options. As a non-profit, CFTEA is dedicated to providing accessible training with high student experience ratings. At no point do we provide canned training options and just move on. Our focus is centered on organizations, their employees, our students, and strengthening our communities through workforce/workplace development.

To do that we work directly with subject matter experts to gain insight and direction into the content of our certificates, diplomas, and the courses that make them up. Trust is at the center of any partnership with our non-profit.

Platinum
Transparency
2024

Candid.

Five years in a row! CFTEA has received the 2024 Platinum Transparency designation from Candid, a national non-profit accountability organization. Why does this matter? Because CFTEA has been reviewed nationally regarding finances, board governance, and mission. Less than 1% of all nonprofit organizations in the United States are awarded the Platinum Seal of Transparency, and CFTEA is very pleased to be part of that elite group.

In House (More details on Page 15)

Would you like the ability to provide live or video conferencing options to employees from just your organization? Material from live classes can be customized and presented in-house by your own employees at a lower cost. How does that work? Ask us and we're happy to give more details.

Instructor Led Online

ILO courses are substantially more expensive than CFTEA Virtual Classrooms or Guided Learning options. Each week students receive an online assignment. The assignments may include reading a chapter in your text, completing an assignment to post on the discussion board, taking a self-check test, or collaborating with other students using discussion boards and other engagement methods. Students are expected to keep pace with the course syllabus. An instructor is available to answer questions..

Guided Learning (Courses on Page 12)

Want the most flexible learning option? If you find attending live classes difficult with your busy schedule, Guided Learning is a powerful option. Each Guided Learning class has a dedicated instructor that is available to answer questions on the material. A suggested syllabus is provided to support student time management at their own pace. Upon registering for a Guided Learning class any needed textbook is mailed to the student. Access to additional course materials on CFTEA Workplace is provided. On the CFTEA Workplace site, everything needed to complete the course including downloadable versions of the activities are provided. Open book exams will be taken on the CFTEA Workplace site and may be taken from any computer. With Guided Learning you are free to work at your own pace on your own time.

Live

Live training options provide face-to-face classroom interaction and networking at a location near you. Students attend in-person at a specified location and time.

Self-Paced eLearning

Self-Paced eLearning topics provide accessibility at a time that works best for a student and provides a high quality experience. These may include mobile access to learning on the go.

Seminars/Programs

Various seminars are available in person or through Zoom throughout the year based on requests and instructor availability. Seminars allow for live, small group discussions on highly specialized topics.

Virtual Classroom (Courses on Page 13-14)

CFTEA Virtual Classrooms provide a live classroom experience within a video conferencing environment. Experience engaged learning with the convenience of attending anywhere with an Internet connection. Access to a device with a webcam and microphone is preferred. With a set date and time, students interact by preparing homework assignments for discussion and ask instructors topical questions to further learning.

Webinars

If you've found a webinar, CFTEA can usually provide it. Purchasing Webinars through CFTEA directly supports nonprofit program and course development. This type of training program combines the clarity of a conference call with the interactions of online presentations. With video sharing ability, an entire room or organization of attendees can participate at the same low cost.

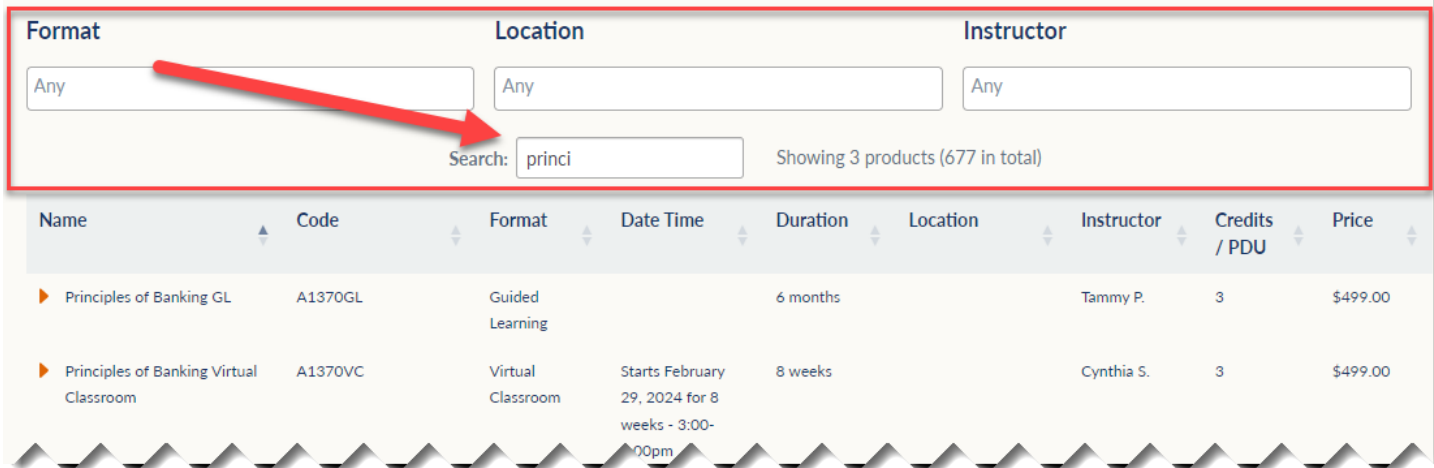

Unable to attend at the scheduled time? Programs are available for playback at a time that convenient for organizations and their employees. Ask us and we're happy to give more details.

Why Employee Education Is A Business Priority

Aside from company perks and monetary compensation, today's top talent looks for employers that enable them to learn and grow professionally. A recent LinkedIn report noted that 94 percent of workers would stay at a company longer if they had more access to employee education and learning opportunities. Less than 2 percent of employees actually take advantage of them. While employee education is not a new concept, it is clear that it opens doors. These opportunities provide tangible benefits which extend from the personal to the organizational and into the societal level. Employees with access to learning opportunities that develop skills, grow their knowledge, and advance their careers see personal and organizational benefits. Successful organizations view employee education as a strategic investment that's measurable and delivers a return—not a costly perk or benefit.

Why Certifications Are Important?

Certification programs go beyond training by providing a nationally recognized measurement of knowledge and skills. See our website cftea.org for details on all our certifications.

Certifications allow professionals to stay up to date, earn more money, provide professional growth and the ability to stay ahead of the pack in the professional world. Today's employee wants engagement in different forms. Many employees today have options. They know the labor market is limited and employers are willing to do more than just offer a job. While some compete for better wages, many will stay with a company that offers the ability to develop and grow their career.

Certified Modern Banking Representative

This certification is designed for entry level employees at financial institutions and shows the world you are serious about making a difference in your career. With so much information coming at a newer employee, the focused content equips students to take on modern banking challenges.

The debate whether leaders are born or made has been waged for many years. The question centers around how various leadership qualities are acquired.

Perhaps a more pressing question for hopeful leaders is, if they don't inherently have the needed core skills, can they be learned? The answers, while not endorsed unanimously, are based on a number of observed realities. Of the many skills required to lead well, it's hard to imagine anyone being born with them all; they are too intricate and diverse for one personality. Most experts agree that many leadership attributes require experience to possess.

"I got a lot out of the Leadership for Women in Business Certificate and would recommend it to other women leaders. At first, I thought it would benefit new leaders only, but it included good reminders on topics that I hadn't considered for a while. It is worth the time and investment to any female leaders." - Judy Folsom, Bar Harbor Bank & Trust

- Each instructor will outline how attendance will impact a student's overall grade in the course syllabus for a live or virtual classroom.

ACE College Credit Recommendations

The American Council on Education's College Credit Recommendation service (ACE Credit) has evaluated and recommended college credit for several Instructor-Led online classes listed in this catalog and the credit recommendation is listed in the indicated column.

The American Council on Education, the major coordinating body for the nation's higher education institutions, seeks to provide leadership and a unifying voice on key higher education issues and to influence public policy through advocacy, research, and program initiatives. ACE CREDIT connects workplace learning with colleges and universities by helping adults gain access to academic credit at colleges and universities for formal courses and examinations taken in the workplace or other settings outside traditional higher education.

These recommendations do not guarantee you will receive college credit for these classes. The decision is made independently by each college or university. The ACE website lists the Colleges and Universities that have agreed to accept the credit recommendations when appropriate.

Prior to enrolling into a course specifically to transfer the credits to the college or university you are attending please confirm directly with the school that they will accept the credits upon successful completion of the class.
